THE SPACE

TO BE HISTORY IN THE MAKING

A small English settlement rests sturdily in a classroom. The treacherous route to freedom unfolds on the pages of a new book. These are just a few of the places and experiences our Lower School students have journeyed to at Flint Hill this past school year.

Students haven't wasted a second in putting the new Innovation Lab for the Lower School to good use. Fourth graders, for example, recreated Colonial Williamsburg in 3D during their studies of America's earliest colonies. Flint Hill parent and Innovation Department Chair Joey Starnes shares the difference made when brilliant students have the right space and materials to learn: "In the past, they would've had to do it in their classrooms with limited materials and resources. ... This year, they came into the lab for a week and built beautiful models."

"There's a lovely model... that all the fourth graders created because they had more materials, more space, more time..."

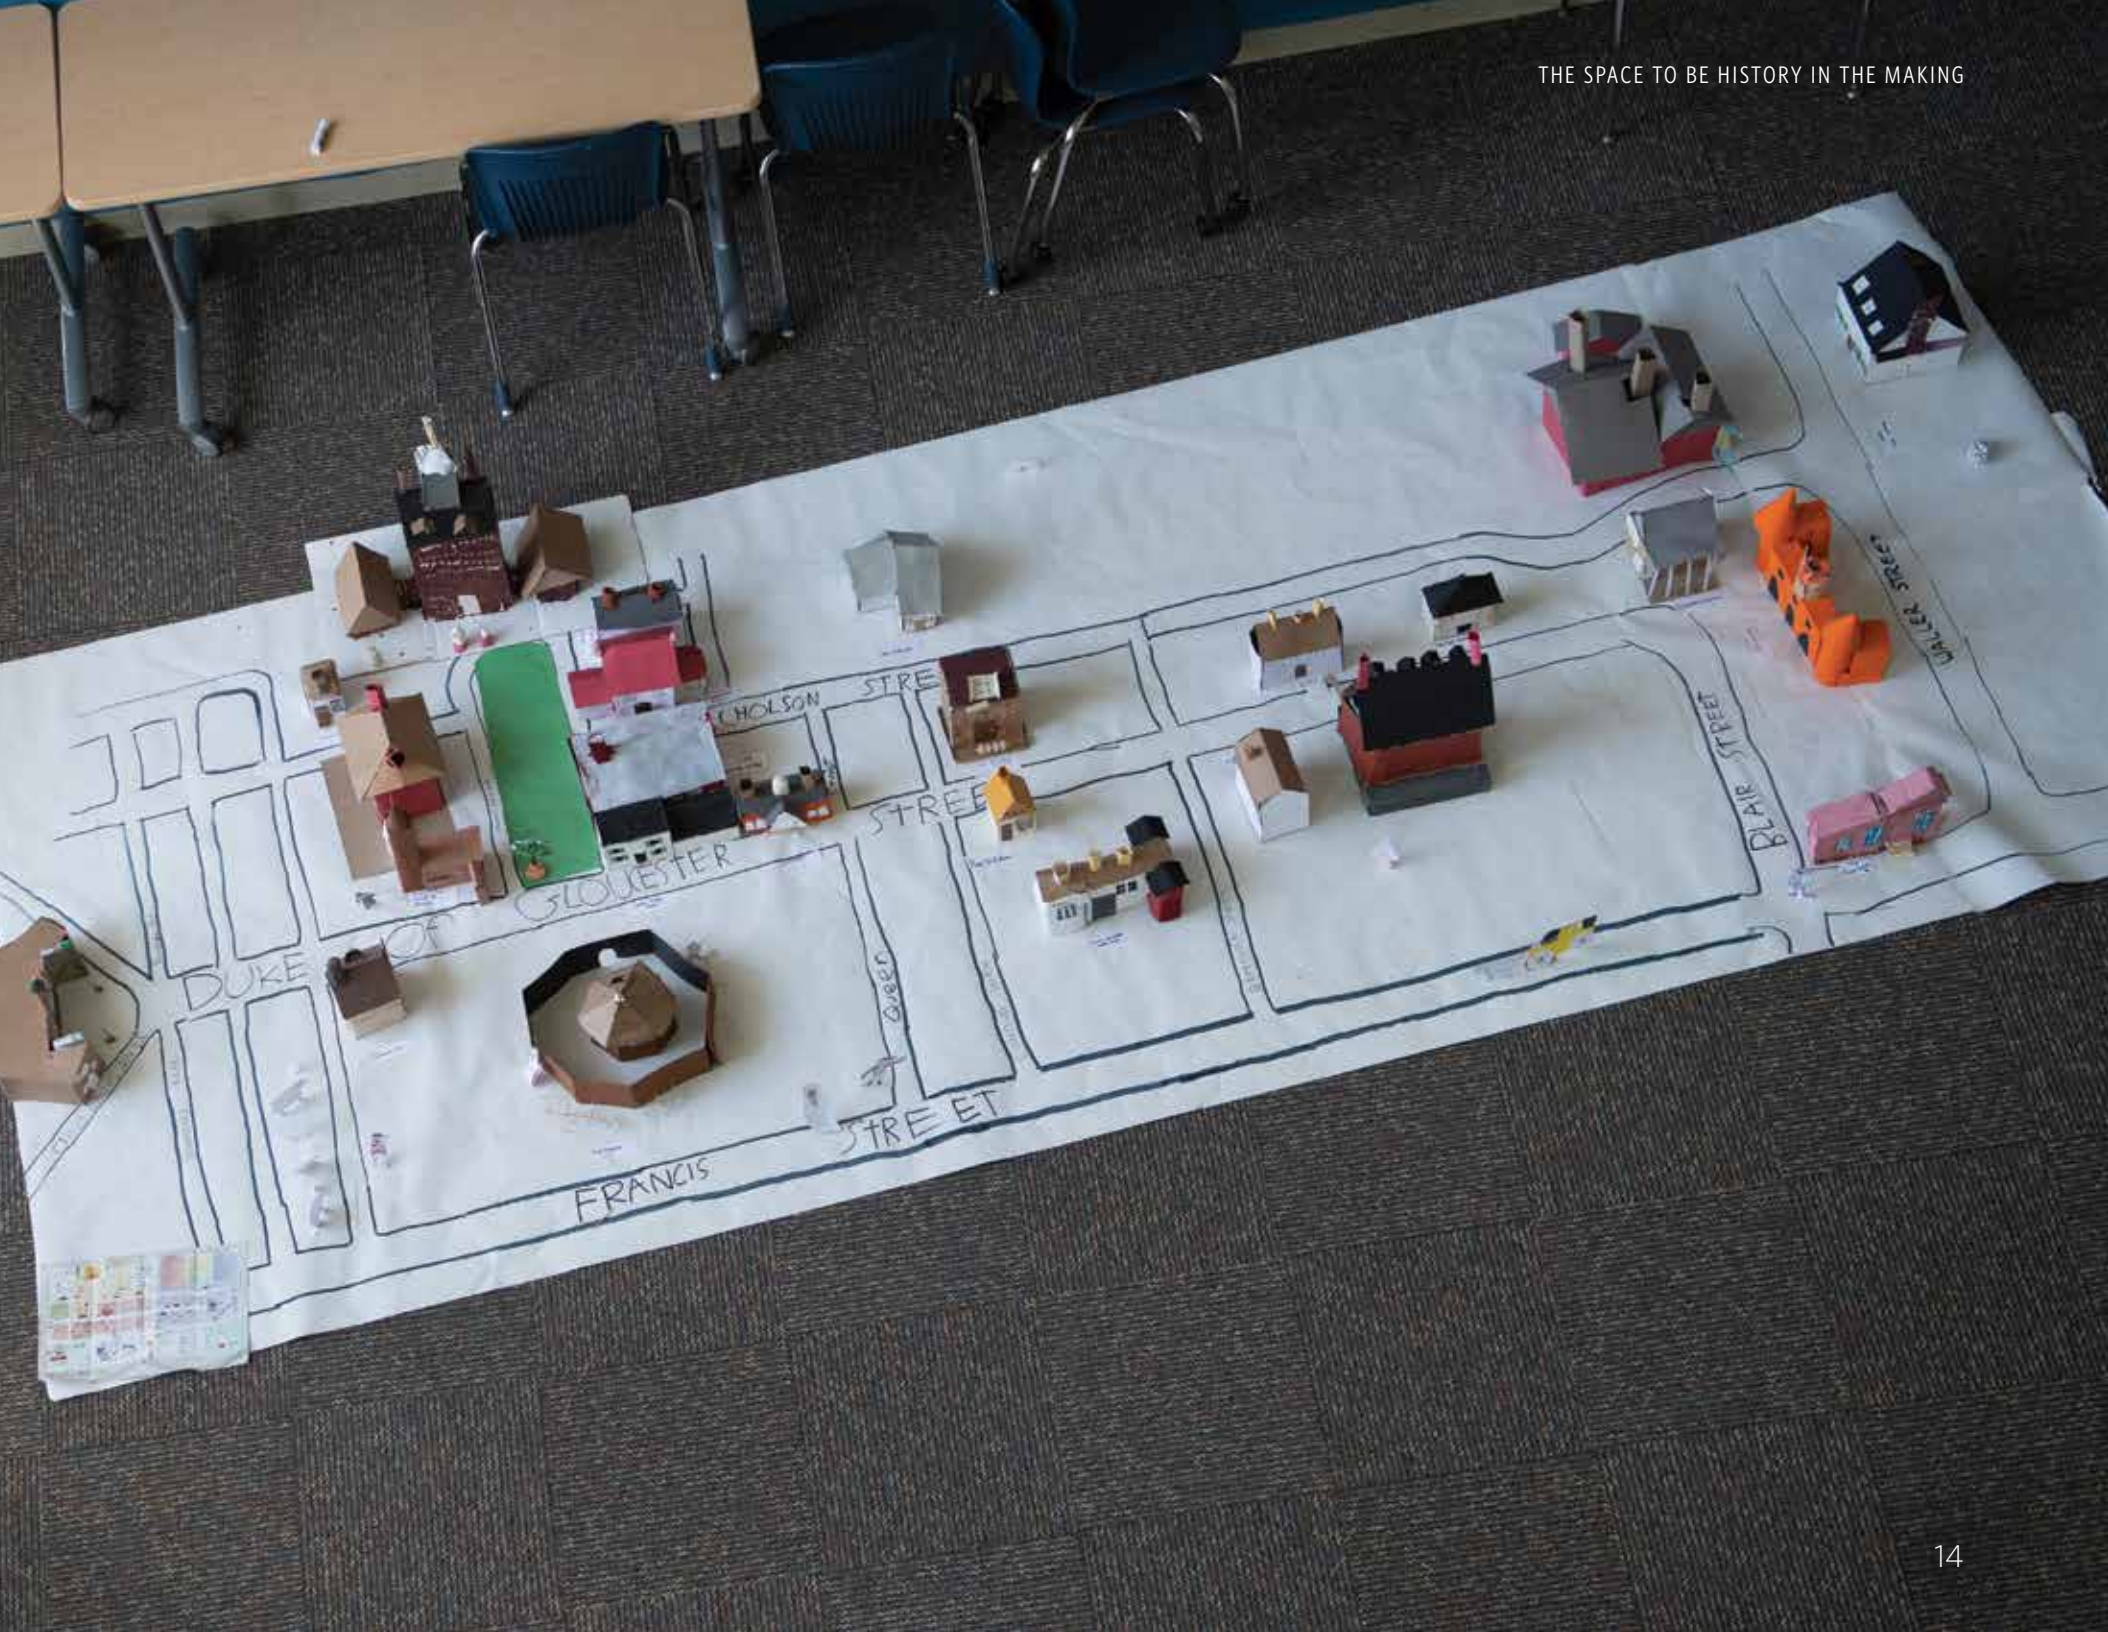

— Joey Starnes, Innovation
Department Chair

The class did not take these new opportunities for granted. In honor of Black History Month and Women’s History Month, students followed the life of Harriet Tubman — collaborating with one another to create a digital book of their learnings. Excited to take the project outside of the School’s walls, they shared their creation with several museums across the country — the North Country Underground Railroad Historical Association even wanted copies for their gift shop!

Colonial Williamsburg and Ms. Tubman’s Underground Railroad are not the only spaces brought to life by our Lower School students. Kindergartners have created the flowers of Matisse using their own unique styles, third graders learned the ways of the printing press by designing stamps — and so many other crucial lessons have been learned that will no doubt make lasting impressions on all our students as they grow.

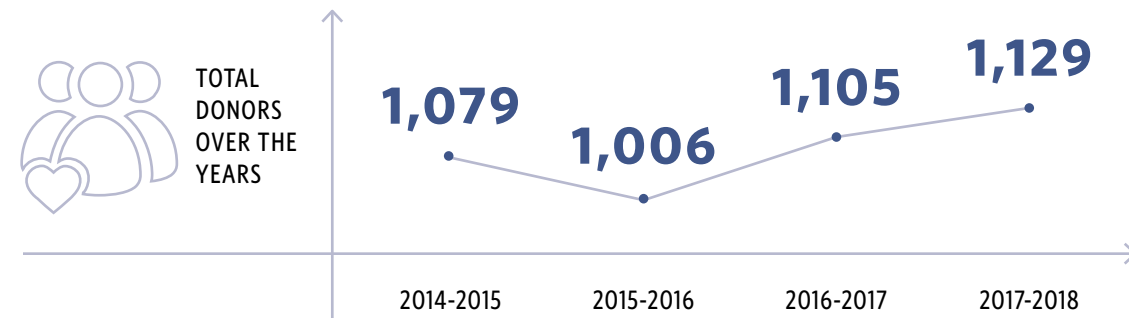

THANK YOU FOR GIVING OUR CHILDREN A WAY INTO THE PAST, SO THEY MAY KNOW HOW TO BEST TACKLE THEIR FUTURES.

TOTAL GIFT CONTRIBUTED BY THE PARENTS' ASSOCIATION

YOUR PARENTS' ASSOCIATION

The Parents' Association is here to build a welcoming and strong community environment where every one of us can help our School succeed. And this year, our parents achieved that mission with a joyful impact — from beginning to end.

In the fall, for example, the PA brings our whole community a winter wonderland — transforming the Upper School into a lively collection of fun holiday shoppes featuring more than 30 vendors. It's a day where we can all come together, connect and find the perfect presents for loved ones. This year, the community-building event even included a special luncheon for parents of alumni, with over 40 in attendance for the inaugural gathering.

Then there's the ever-popular Golf Invitational in the spring, which saw participation increase across the board! Alumni, parents and parents of alumni alike really showed up and played their hearts out. And who wouldn't, with lunch, dinner, player prizes and new challenging holes all day long? There was even a Swing and Soiree Clinic available this year so participants new to the game could come out, hone their skills and join in on the fun.

Fundraising events like this — and all the amazing community-building activities that continue year-round, like Homecoming, the Tennis Tournament, Winterfest and Springfest — could not happen without the dedication of our parents. Thank you to all who have helped make the Flint Hill community one we are so proud of!

CELEBRATING OUR FALCONS

Last spring, we dedicated “the Falcon Room” — our former Parlor — to honor our pre-1990 alumni. Our appreciation goes out to all our alumni — Falcons and Huskies — for their amazing support.

From the entrance of our School, take a few steps down the road on Academic Drive and you’ll see the small but beloved building known as the Miller House.

What was once Flint Hill’s only schoolhouse now is home to the administrative work of the admission, advancement and communications teams — and the new official home of the Falcon Room, too.

This room — decorated with memorabilia from our School’s history — is a place of honor for our Falcon alumni and the great contributions they made during their time at Flint Hill. So we were especially happy to be able to welcome so many proud alumni back to campus last May for a special Falcon Room dedication ceremony and reception.

The Right Reverend David Moshier '72, T.H.M., S.T.D., spoke during that night’s event. “The dedication of this particular room evokes Falcon memories,” he said. “Now we can take pride of accomplishment. The school of our memories has become a school that produces academic successes ...”

We will certainly toast to that, Reverend! After all, while the Falcon Room is located in the Miller House to honor our past, it is also part of the Flint Hill we know and love today. Our thriving, innovative community exists because of the people in Flint Hill’s history who were determined to leave the place better than they found it.

John Thomas, Dorothy Lear
Mooney '74, Chuck Papas '81
and Cathy Colquhoun Todd
'68 officially cut the ribbon to the Falcon Room.

“History teaches us that our experiences can be grouped into eras. Tonight, thanks to efforts undertaken in the Husky era, the Falcon era has a permanent, vital, instructive presence.”

— Rev. David Moshier '72

THANK YOU TO ALL ALUMNI FOR BEING A VITAL PART OF OUR COMMUNITY'S STRONG FOUNDATION. AND AS REV. MOSHIER REMINDED US, "WE ARE ONE FLINT HILL."

THE SPACE

TO BETTER KNOW THE WORLD

A house. A kitchen. A window.
Una casa. Una cocina. Una ventana.

For middle schoolers this year, common spaces in a home were transformed into learning grounds for new languages — and new ways of thinking.

Fifth/Sixth Grade Innovation Teacher and Flint Hill parent, Sarah Magner, explained what this integrated coding project was all about. “[Students] do a house tour in Scratch programming in my class, and they program it to go to the different rooms of the house. Then they take it to the Spanish classroom and translate it into Spanish.”

“I couldn’t do what I do with the students without your generosity. It has transformed the curriculum that I teach and really enables me to do my job.”

— Fifth/Sixth Grade Innovation Teacher, Sarah Magner

The House Tour didn't just take students from digital room to digital room — integrating both Spanish and code, the students moved fluidly between learning two completely different types of languages. And this doesn't stop at houses. Middle School Spanish classes have also been known to take their dynamic skills on the open road (or open hallways) by programming small toy cars through coding instructions written in español.

It's remarkable — at an age when students are growing in so many ways, they can rise to the challenge and grow their technological and cultural linguistics in one fell swoop. And of course, there's another side to the projects, too. As Mrs. Magner reminded us, "It's fun, it's really fun."

♥ THANK YOU FOR ENSURING STUDENTS HAVE ALL THEY NEED TO EXPAND THEIR HORIZONS IN A 21ST-CENTURY WORLD — AND HAVE FUN WHILE THEY DO.

PARENTS OF ALUMNI ANNUAL FUND GIFTS

WILLIAM A. HAZEL FAMILY LEARNING CENTER ENDOWMENT

Established in 1999 by William and Eleanor Hazel and their family, who were passionate about supporting students who learn differently with personalized attention and special academic help. This endowment supports our Learning Center.

THE LEARNING CENTER

The William A. Hazel Family Learning Center Endowment supports our Learning Center — one of the many programs that make Flint Hill unique.

At Flint Hill, we stress that learning is a journey — and every journey is different. This is why our Learning Center exists — to provide students with learning differences a chance to excel beyond academic obstacles. Marci Nelson, an active volunteer and parent at Flint Hill, has three children who have all benefited from the Learning Center. She explained how meaningful the program is to families like hers.

“Our oldest son [Connor] is 24 now, but he went to Flint Hill for high school,” she said. “He was diagnosed with executive functioning disorder and had a terrible time organizing himself. ... But in 11th and 12th grades he decided to really pay attention to his Learning Center specialist, and she did a marvelous job to give him what I call ‘external scaffolding,’ to help him organize.”

Our trained learning specialists, like the one who was there for Connor, offer personalized attention to each student. One-on-one sessions focus on the best way for each individual to make progress — and, in true Flint Hill style, they teach to the whole person.

Marci explained, “Because of his high IQ, he probably wouldn’t have qualified for learning difference services at a public school. He would’ve been one of those kids who falls through the cracks.” But having the Learning Center ensured that didn’t happen — and now, Connor has a year and a half left at college and is on the dean’s list for his high GPA.

Marci’s daughter enrolled in Flint Hill and the Learning Center program in Middle School. As a rising senior this year, she’s not only able to thrive on her own without these services, but she’s also incorporating the skills she learned into her future.

“She’s looking for a college where they prioritize getting to know the professors, having the freedom to self-advocate and collaborating with other students,” Marci explained. “The Learning Center gave that to her in a very intensive way ... to all my three kids. I’m very appreciative of it.”

And we’re just as appreciative of friends like you for making that experience possible. Because while every learning journey is different, we believe one thing should be the same: That all students have the best chance to reach their potential.

“These are smart kids. They just need a broader range of teaching methods. ... Without the Learning Center, students like this suffer. It’s difficult for them to reach their potential.”

— Marci Nelson, P’12, P’19, P’21

YOUR SUPPORT MAKES THIS UNIQUE PROGRAM AVAILABLE SO THAT EVERY CHILD IN OUR COMMUNITY HAS AN EQUAL SHOT AT A BRIGHT FUTURE. THANK YOU FOR BEING OUR BACKBONE.

THE SPACE

TO BECOME WHO YOU ARE

A favorite teacher's classroom. The dimming lights of the auditorium. A final scoreboard buzzing at the end of a game. The glow of the bonfire at Homecoming. The hours spent preparing a Senior Project presentation ... These are only a few moments that may come to mind when Upper School students think about their experience here.

One more might be the gymnasium, where 133 Seniors waited anxiously to receive their diplomas at Commencement this past spring. It was during this ceremony that Valedictorian John Moxley and Salutatorian Karolena Salmon spoke on the real meaning of the Flint Hill experience — and it means so much.

For one, it means taking meaningful risks and being yourself. "There's an important message behind these words," Moxley explained. "It's about self-discovery and finding out what you love doing."

That quest for independent thinking begins on day one at the Upper School. Whether it's the College Counseling Program for every 9th through 12th grader, the breadth of classes that includes 25 AP courses, or extracurriculars from broadcasting to global politics.

And while finding your own path is emphasized, a collaborative environment is alive and well at this School of ours, too. Our teachers and staff make sure each student's personal learning needs are met always, all while stressing the potency of tackling challenges together.

Ms. Salmon put it best that day last spring: "We grow and learn the most, as both students and people, when we are pushed to our limits. And thanks to Flint Hill, we are encouraged to push ourselves to those limits. We are urged to be our best selves..."

Make no mistake, you have made all of this possible — for our 133 graduates now taking on the future and for every single student at Flint Hill preparing to make their own mark, too.

Class of 2018 Valedictorian John Moxley; Commencement Speaker Lorena Castillo de Varela '88, First Lady of the Republic of Panama; Headmaster John Thomas; and Salutatorian Karolena Salmon.

"No two of us have had the same experience. We are all in the same location, but we are all in different places. Our journeys are like fingerprints."

— Class of 2018 Salutatorian Karolena Salmon

THANK YOU FOR PROVIDING OUR YOUNG PEOPLE WITH THE ROOM TO LEARN FEARLESSLY — AND THE ENCOURAGEMENT TO STAND ON THEIR OWN.

 THANK YOU FOR ALWAYS FINDING THE SPACE IN YOUR HEART FOR FLINT HILL.
