Study Break: Student Event

Study Break is an annual tradition for all students of Notre Dame hosted by the Notre Dame Alumni Association. During fall semester finals, the Association plans this free event for all students between the end of the last day of class and the beginning of finals. This event is usually held in a large, easily accessible space adjacent to common study areas. It is intended to help students de-stress while they are studying for exams. The event includes gourmet coffee and espresso carts (to get through the South Bend winters!), a number of hand and back massage areas, fun and games, and a plethora of pizzas, snacks, and fresh fruit. This event also offers the network of hometown Notre Dame Clubs the opportunity to connect with students from their area and send them an encouraging note to cheer them on for finals.

The posters were used to drive attendance in the residence halls and other common academic areas around campus.
